Volume No. IX

Foreword

It is our desire through this yearbook to record all those classes and activities which we encounter within these doors.

Let us follow several students and relive our joyous years at SHS.

Dedication

Cheering the team to victory, sweating over a difficult test, faithfully doing home work—are only a small portion of the meritorious accomplishments of the students of SHS.

The average student in addition to meeting scholastic requirements, finds time to participate in a diversity of activities from working in the library to participating in strenuous sports. The students are also willing to participate in the planning and the organizing of clubs, social affairs, and events staged for the benefit of their classes and other individuals.

Without hesitation and with sincere respect to you the students, we, the 1960 Calumet Staff, take great pleasure in dedicating this yearbook to you. May it always remind you of your fruitful years at SHS.

OFFICE

Administration

Board of Education

Members of the Board conduct business

Five men from each of the six districts of the Southern Joint School System carry the responsibility of running the jointure efficiently. All important items are brought before them for discussion and wise decisions.

Included in the school board's activities are the tasks of setting up the budget and determining bus routes for the six schools. They also approve any administration's plans and building plans. Election of teachers comes under their category.

Board Officers

Mr. Junior Day, Vice President; Mr. William Kapp, Treasurer; Mrs. Dorothy Panzarella, Secretary; Mr. Paul Shepperd, President.

Supervising Principal

As Americans we possess rights, freedoms, and opportunities in such quantity and quality that we fail to fully appreciate our good fortune. Too often we take these conditions for granted and forget the heritage and faith of our forefathers.

Now, you will take your place as a citizen in this community. It will be your responsibility to guard and maintain these rights and freedoms for the generations of the future.

MR. HARRY R. HENLY, Supervising Principal

Administrators

As principal of Susquehannock High School, and, in behalf of our faculty, I extend with pride and appreciation to each of the Class of 1960 a most sincere congratulation.

Good luck and best wishes, and may these past years of learning be the firm foundation on which you will build the new life before you.

Ralph A. Bortner
Principal

Principal

MR. RALPH A. BORTNER, Principal

Mr. Raymond Burger, Mr. Donald Blough, Mr. James Miller, Mr. Thomas Kerrigan.

Social Studies

To learn of the past and of present conditions is the purpose of the Social Studies Courses. Those offered are European, American, and World History, Problems of Democracy, and Geography.

Social Studies grant us the opportunity to learn about the governments in other countries, and of their way of life. It also helps us understand and enjoy our heritage.

Mr. Hamme instructs students.

STANDING: Mr. Robert Cox, Mr. Sydney Ehrhart.
SEATED: Mrs. Dorothy Hollahan, Mrs. Sarah Graham.

Guidance

Guiding students through their high school years, recording grades, and interviewing seniors are a few of the jobs of the guidance department. Guidance teachers are available to the students for counseling and assisting at any time.

These faculty members encourage students to further their education and to plan for their future careers.

The librarian lends assistance in finding books and references.

SEATED: Mrs. Mary Keith, Mrs. Doris Miller, Miss Margaret Mercer.
STANDING: Mr. Guy Mergenthaler, Mr. Matthew Mensch, Mr. Roland Heathcote.

English

"Ain't ain't no word" is one of the many things the English teachers strive to teach their students.

Pupils are informed in the proper use of grammar as well as in great literary works.

Another division of the English department is the journalism classes. Students learn the correct skills of writing.

In tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades students are introduced to "Julius Caesar," "Macbeth," and "Hamlet."

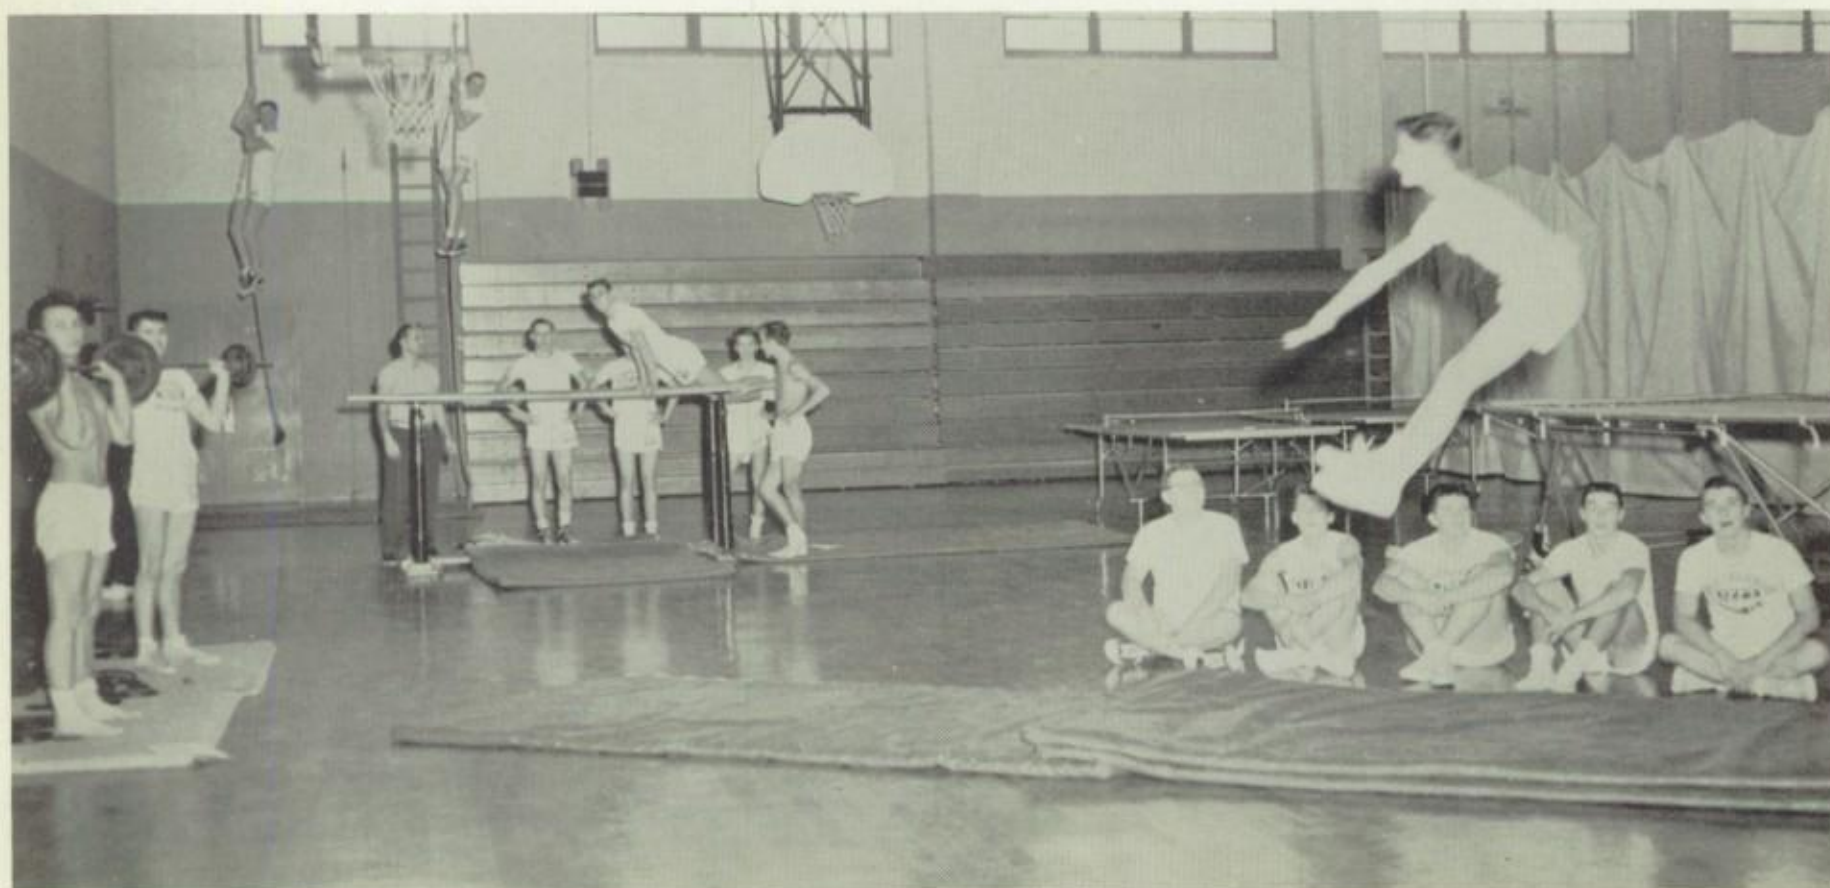

Mr. Robert Zigler, Miss Nancy Boyle, and Mr. Robert McCoy.

Physical Education, Health, and Driver Education

Through the tireless efforts of the Physical Education and Driver Education departments, Susquehannock's students learn the skills of applying good sportsmanship.

Senior High Students are well informed in the art of operating an automobile and obeying the traffic laws in Driver Education.

Physical Education teachers instruct both boys and girls in sports and encourage participation on the school's athletic teams.

Boys practice gymnastics.

Home Economics

Both Junior and Senior high students are instructed in the fundamental principles of homemaking.

Under the guidance of the Home Economics' teachers, students are shown the proper methods to acquire skill in cooking, sewing, and managing the home.

Beginning with a simple apron, they master the skill of sewing until they have completed a dress. In cooking they learn to make everything from a biscuit to a full course meal.

Modern appliances are available to all Home Ec. classes.

These experiences prepare the students as future homemakers.

Mrs. Teresa Black and Mrs. Henrietta Wilt.

Nurse

Safeguarding the health of the students is the aim of nurses, Mrs. Margaret Anderson and Mrs. Loretta Rappolt. In the grades seven, nine, and eleven, physical examinations are conducted by Dr. Remley with the assistance of the nurses.

Hearing and vision tests are given also.

Mrs. Anderson is available to any student who needs medical attention.

Nurse—Mrs. Margaret Anderson.

Mr. Curtis Stermer, Mr. Melvin Wagner, and Mr. Melvin Zeilman.

Science

Experiments, test tubes and chemicals are the components of the science department. Under the direction of Mr. Stermer, Mr. Wagner, and Mr. Zeilman, students learn to conduct experiments, handle chemicals, and study the aspects of the physical world.

Chemistry, biology, and physics are the three courses offered to senior high students. There are general science classes for the junior high classes.

Foreign Languages

Latin, French, and Spanish are the foreign languages which are offered. A student who takes one of these languages increases his understanding of the ways and customs of the people around him.

In the eighth grade students are offered a chance to decide which language they like by taking a General Language Course. Each language is taught for a period of nine weeks.

Miss Phyllis Krumrine and Mr. Elwood Ruth.

Industrial Arts and Agriculture

Through practice in the shop and in the field the boys prepare for their future.

In the shop they work on projects of wood, metal, and plastic. The boys also learn mechanical drawing and lettering.

Boys taking the Agriculture Course grow crops and work with farm machinery. They also study science and other subjects dealing with agriculture.

Mr. Russell Hare and Mr. Lowell Wallace.

Walter Fourhman, Robert Hildebrand, and Aaron Amspacher repair the cornplanter.

Mr. Oscar Snyder, Mr. Paul Ricker, Mr. William Wolf, and Mr. Frank Baker.

Mathematics

Mathematics is fast becoming one of the most important subjects being taught in school because it is the basis for understanding. With the ever increasing need for engineers and scientists, a thorough knowledge of all phases of mathematics is necessary.

Susquehannock prepares its students by requiring courses in elementary mathematics for junior high students. Senior high students are offered the higher math, including Algebra, Geometry and Trigonometry.

Mr. Charles Miller heads the Art Department.

Art

Art is one of the oldest means of communication. Through it we have learned many things about our ancestors.

Mr. Charles Miller, head of the Art Department, patiently instructs students in the proficiency of art.

His junior high artists learn to enlarge pictures, draw likenesses of models, and paint with water colors.

More advanced projects are assigned to older students. They make masks, corsages, and figurines. Several artists participated in poster contests and won awards.

Music

Students who enjoy singing or playing an instrument are encouraged to participate in the music program, consisting of the band, orchestra, and choral group.

The Music Department provides entertainment for assemblies and special programs. The students may take part in the music festivals held every year by the county, district, and state, thus affording opportunity to visit more of Pennsylvania's schools.

Students vocalize

Miss Sarah Bookwalter, Mr. Leroy Krebs, Mr. Gerald Treon.

Business

Students in this department are trained for future careers in the business world.

Included in the curricula of this department are typing, bookkeeping, shorthand, clerical and office practice, business English, and business arithmetic.

Students are granted an opportunity to put their studies into actual practice through work in the student store and the task of selling lunch tickets. They also help in keeping school records.

Mr. Krebs instructs clerical and office practice students.

School Office

Mr. Paul Ricker, Vice Principal; and Mr. Richard Hartranft, Administrative Assistant.

Students seek help in office.

SEVENTH GRADE

Recent arrivals at S.H.S. are kept busy by participating in bake sales, skating parties, and clubs. Each day they encounter different experiences as they change classes and meet new students.

By electing class officers and student council representatives, they learn that they have a part in their class and school government.

...For Future Careers

History is taught to Junior high students.

Cheerleading is one of the many activities carried on by the junior high students. Though most of the time of these students is spent in adjusting to high school life, they still find time to participate in many activities.

Many hold positions on the Student Council. They are also engaged in planning social affairs and field trips. Others work on publishing a junior high newspaper.

SENIOR HOMEROOM TEACHERS

STANDING: Mr. Curtis Stermer, Mr. Melvin Zeilman, Mr. Melvin Wagner. SEATED:
Miss Phyllis Krumrine.

HOMEROOM TEACHERS

These teachers, as well as all other homeroom teachers, are responsible for keeping attendance records. They also transfer the grades from the office records to the students' report cards. Morning devotions are under their charge. They read the daily bulletin to their students and inform them of overdue library books. They are also available for counseling.

Senior Activities

Boys treat students to hillbilly music.

From the laboratory to the stage, such are the transitions that a senior goes through.

The Prom, the All Night Party, and the New York Trip are only a small part of the activities of the senior class at SHS.

The seniors are planning a Senior Day to raise funds for a worthwhile cause.

Students prepare iodine crystals.

When the jointure went into action in 1952 the school papers of Glenville, Glen Rock, and New Freedom were merged into what is now the Susquehannock Courier. The paper is printed eight times each year.

During the years the paper has received favorable recognition on a national basis. In the N.S.P.A., the C.S.P.A., and the P.S.P.A. competitions it has earned a majority of first and second place ratings during the past nine years.

... Prepares Publication

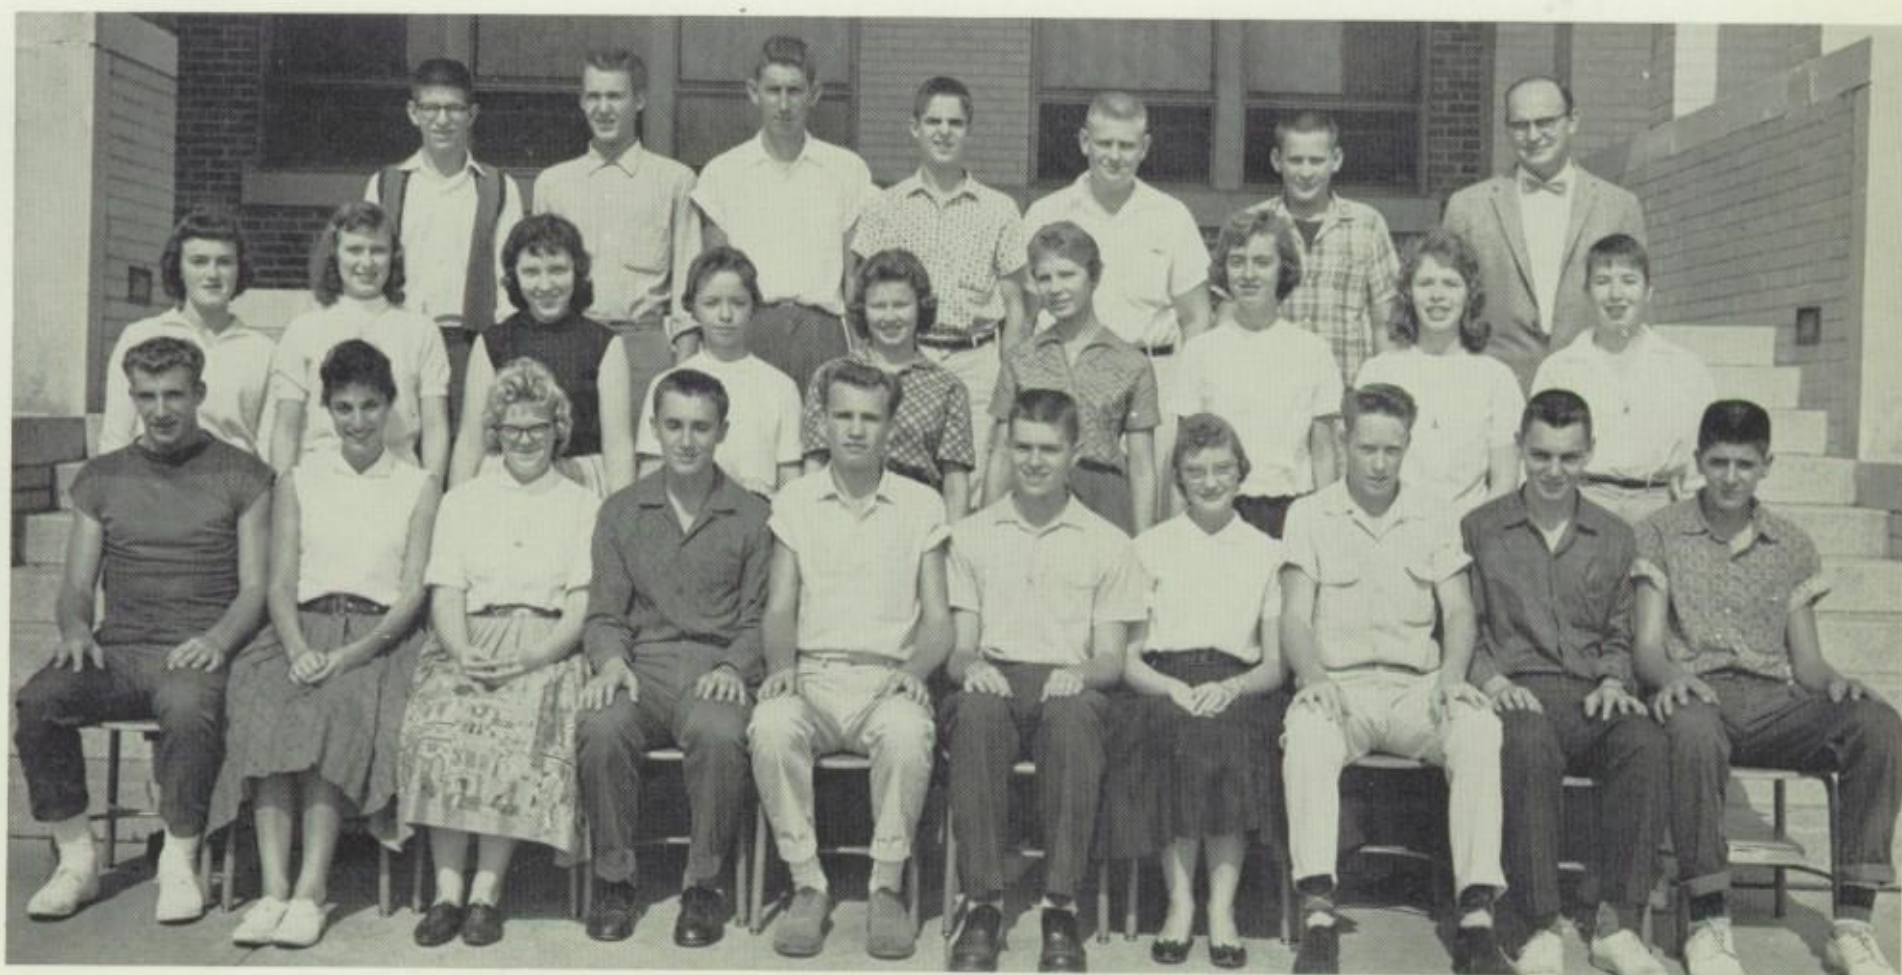

The achievements demonstrated in a football game, a class play, or a yearbook require a great deal of behind-the-scene work. The yearbook, for example, is a year-round job with advertisements and yearbooks to be sold, pictures to be taken, materials to be collected, checked, and written. A large amount of planning and organization go into the production of a yearbook.

My sincere thanks to the editors and their staff for their contribution of time and effort to complete the 1960 Calumet.

Future Teachers of America

Having an interest in teaching as a future career is the only qualification one has to have to belong to the Future Teachers of America.

The students learn more about teaching through assisting teachers and visiting other schools and colleges.

The club participates in school activities pertaining to teaching, such as Back to School Night. They have attended Teachers' Institute.

The club, sponsored by Mrs. Doris Miller and Miss Mercer, meets every Thursday.

F.T.A. meeting is conducted.

Mr. Treon coaches students.

Science Club

The Science Club gives the students who are interested in science a chance to learn more about it. The club projects also furnish the school with equipment and materials.

Planned for future projects are the building of a Tesla Coil and a geiger-counter.

The club is under the direction of Mr. Melvin Wagner.

Senior Intramurals

In order to create more interest in sports, Senior High Intramurals has been organized. The club is open to all senior high boys.

Various sports are coached by Mr. Gerald Treon, club advisor.

Riding Club

Promoting a greater interest in safe riding is the purpose of the Riding Club. Any student who has a genuine interest in horses may join.

The second Saturday of every month the members ride at the River Valley Ranch, Lineboro, Maryland.

The club, under the guidance of Mrs. Sarah Graham, is taught proper riding techniques.

Students practice horsemanship.

Dance Band practices for future engagements.

Dance Band

To supply modern entertainment to the students at Susquehannock is the purpose of the Dance Band. They furnish the music for some of the school dances.

The band, sponsored by Mr. Prowell Seitzinger, consists of twenty-five members. They meet every Tuesday to rehearse for future engagements.

Archery Club

The Archery Club promotes interest in the age-old sport of "archery." The club practices outside, if the weather permits.

Planned for the future is the building of an archery range.

This newly organized club is advised by Mr. Matthew Mensch.

Students receive instruction.

Library Club

Membership in the Library Club is the largest in the school. Students from eighth to twelfth grade are eligible for the club.

These students work in the library for at least one period a week. They do all types of jobs—from checking the Wilson catalog to dusting book shelves.

All students who work for seventy-five hours receive a pin. Those who have worked one hundred and fifty hours receive a tie clasp or another piece of jewelry.

The club advisor is Mrs. Dorothy Hollahan.

Students utilize library facilities.

Junior High Newspaper

Junior high students have a chance to try their hand in journalism while working on the junior high newspaper, "Tee Pee Talk."

Under the direction of Mrs. Mary Keith and Miss Margaret Mercer, students learn the methods of operating a newspaper and gain experience in writing. This prepares them for future work on the Courier. This year's editor is Darlene Schuman.

Superbia Scholae Nostrae

Mrs. Graham, Jean Wilson, Lois Winemiller, and Miss Krumrine.

Students confer with committee head.

Students organize material for the improvement of the school.

Under the patronage of Miss Phyllis Krumrine and Mrs. Sarah Graham, a new club, the Superbia Scholae Nostrae, has appeared on the school scene.

The club is composed of senior girls and boys, and junior girls who are interested in improving the appearance of the school. Later members of the underclasses will be able to join.

The club plans to operate a canteen for students in the cafeteria before school.

An advisor will supervise the canteen at first, but later it will be operated by the students on the honor system.

The fundamental purposes of the Superbia Scholae Nostrae are to work for the welfare of the school and to show that the students are willing and able to accept responsibility in the school community.

Theatre Arts Club

Designing the scenery for the junior and senior plays keeps the Theatre Arts Club quite busy throughout the year. They repair damaged scenery and sometimes provide the settings for some of the assembly programs.

The club, sponsored by Mr. Lowell Wallace, is open to boys in both junior and senior high.

The officers for this year are: Ray Masimore, President; Kenneth Adams, Vice President; Terry Klinefelter, Secretary; Gary Masimore, Treasurer.

Instruction is given by Mr. Wallace.

Future Nurses of America

Senior high girls who are interested in careers in nursing may join the F.N.A. These girls assist Mrs. Anderson, their director, in administering shots. They participate in programs which collect funds for UNICEF.

During the school year, the future nurses visit hospitals.

Student assists nurse in preparing for shots.

Quo Vadis Club

Any person who has, or is, taking Latin may join the Quo Vadis Club. The purpose for the club is to increase the interest in classic civilization. The club attends the Latin convention, which is held every year in the different parts of the state. The club meets on Tuesday in room 210.

The club is advised by Miss Phyllis Krumrine.

The officers for the 1950-60 club are: President, Donald Shive; Vice-President, Gunta Melbardis; Secretary, Dwan Boose; Treasurer, Ilene Miller.

Seventh Grade Intramurals

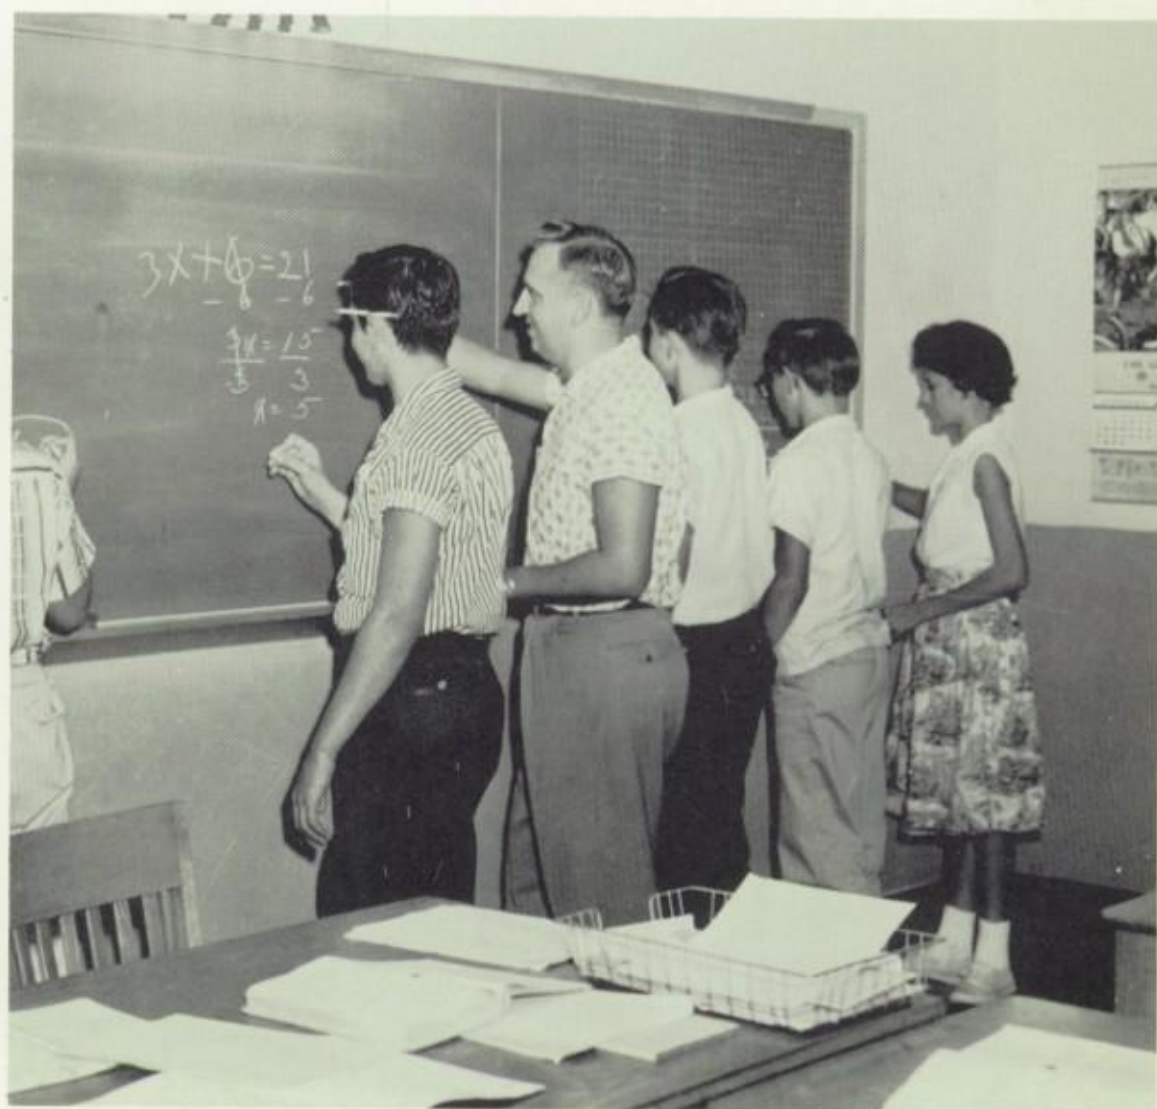

Any seventh grade student who is interested in sports may join this club. Many of these students prepare for future years on SHS sports teams. They learn the value of sportsmanship.

The club meets every Thursday under the direction of Mr. Wilson Hamme.

Math Club

Under the guidance of Mr. Wolf, students who are interested in furthering their knowledge in the field of mathematics join this club. It meets every Thursday in room 231.

The Mathematics Club is open to junior high students. These students are trained in basic algebra rules. Mr. Wolf attempts to keep up the pace of the students' progress, thus giving the students the extra benefit of individual attention.

Students practice basic algebra problems.

We, the advertising staff of the 1960 Calumet, would like to thank everyone who has contributed to the success of our yearbook.

Also, I would like to thank everyone on the advertising staff, because, without their help, nothing could have been completed.

Thank you everyone!

Sincerely yours,

ADVERTISING STAFF

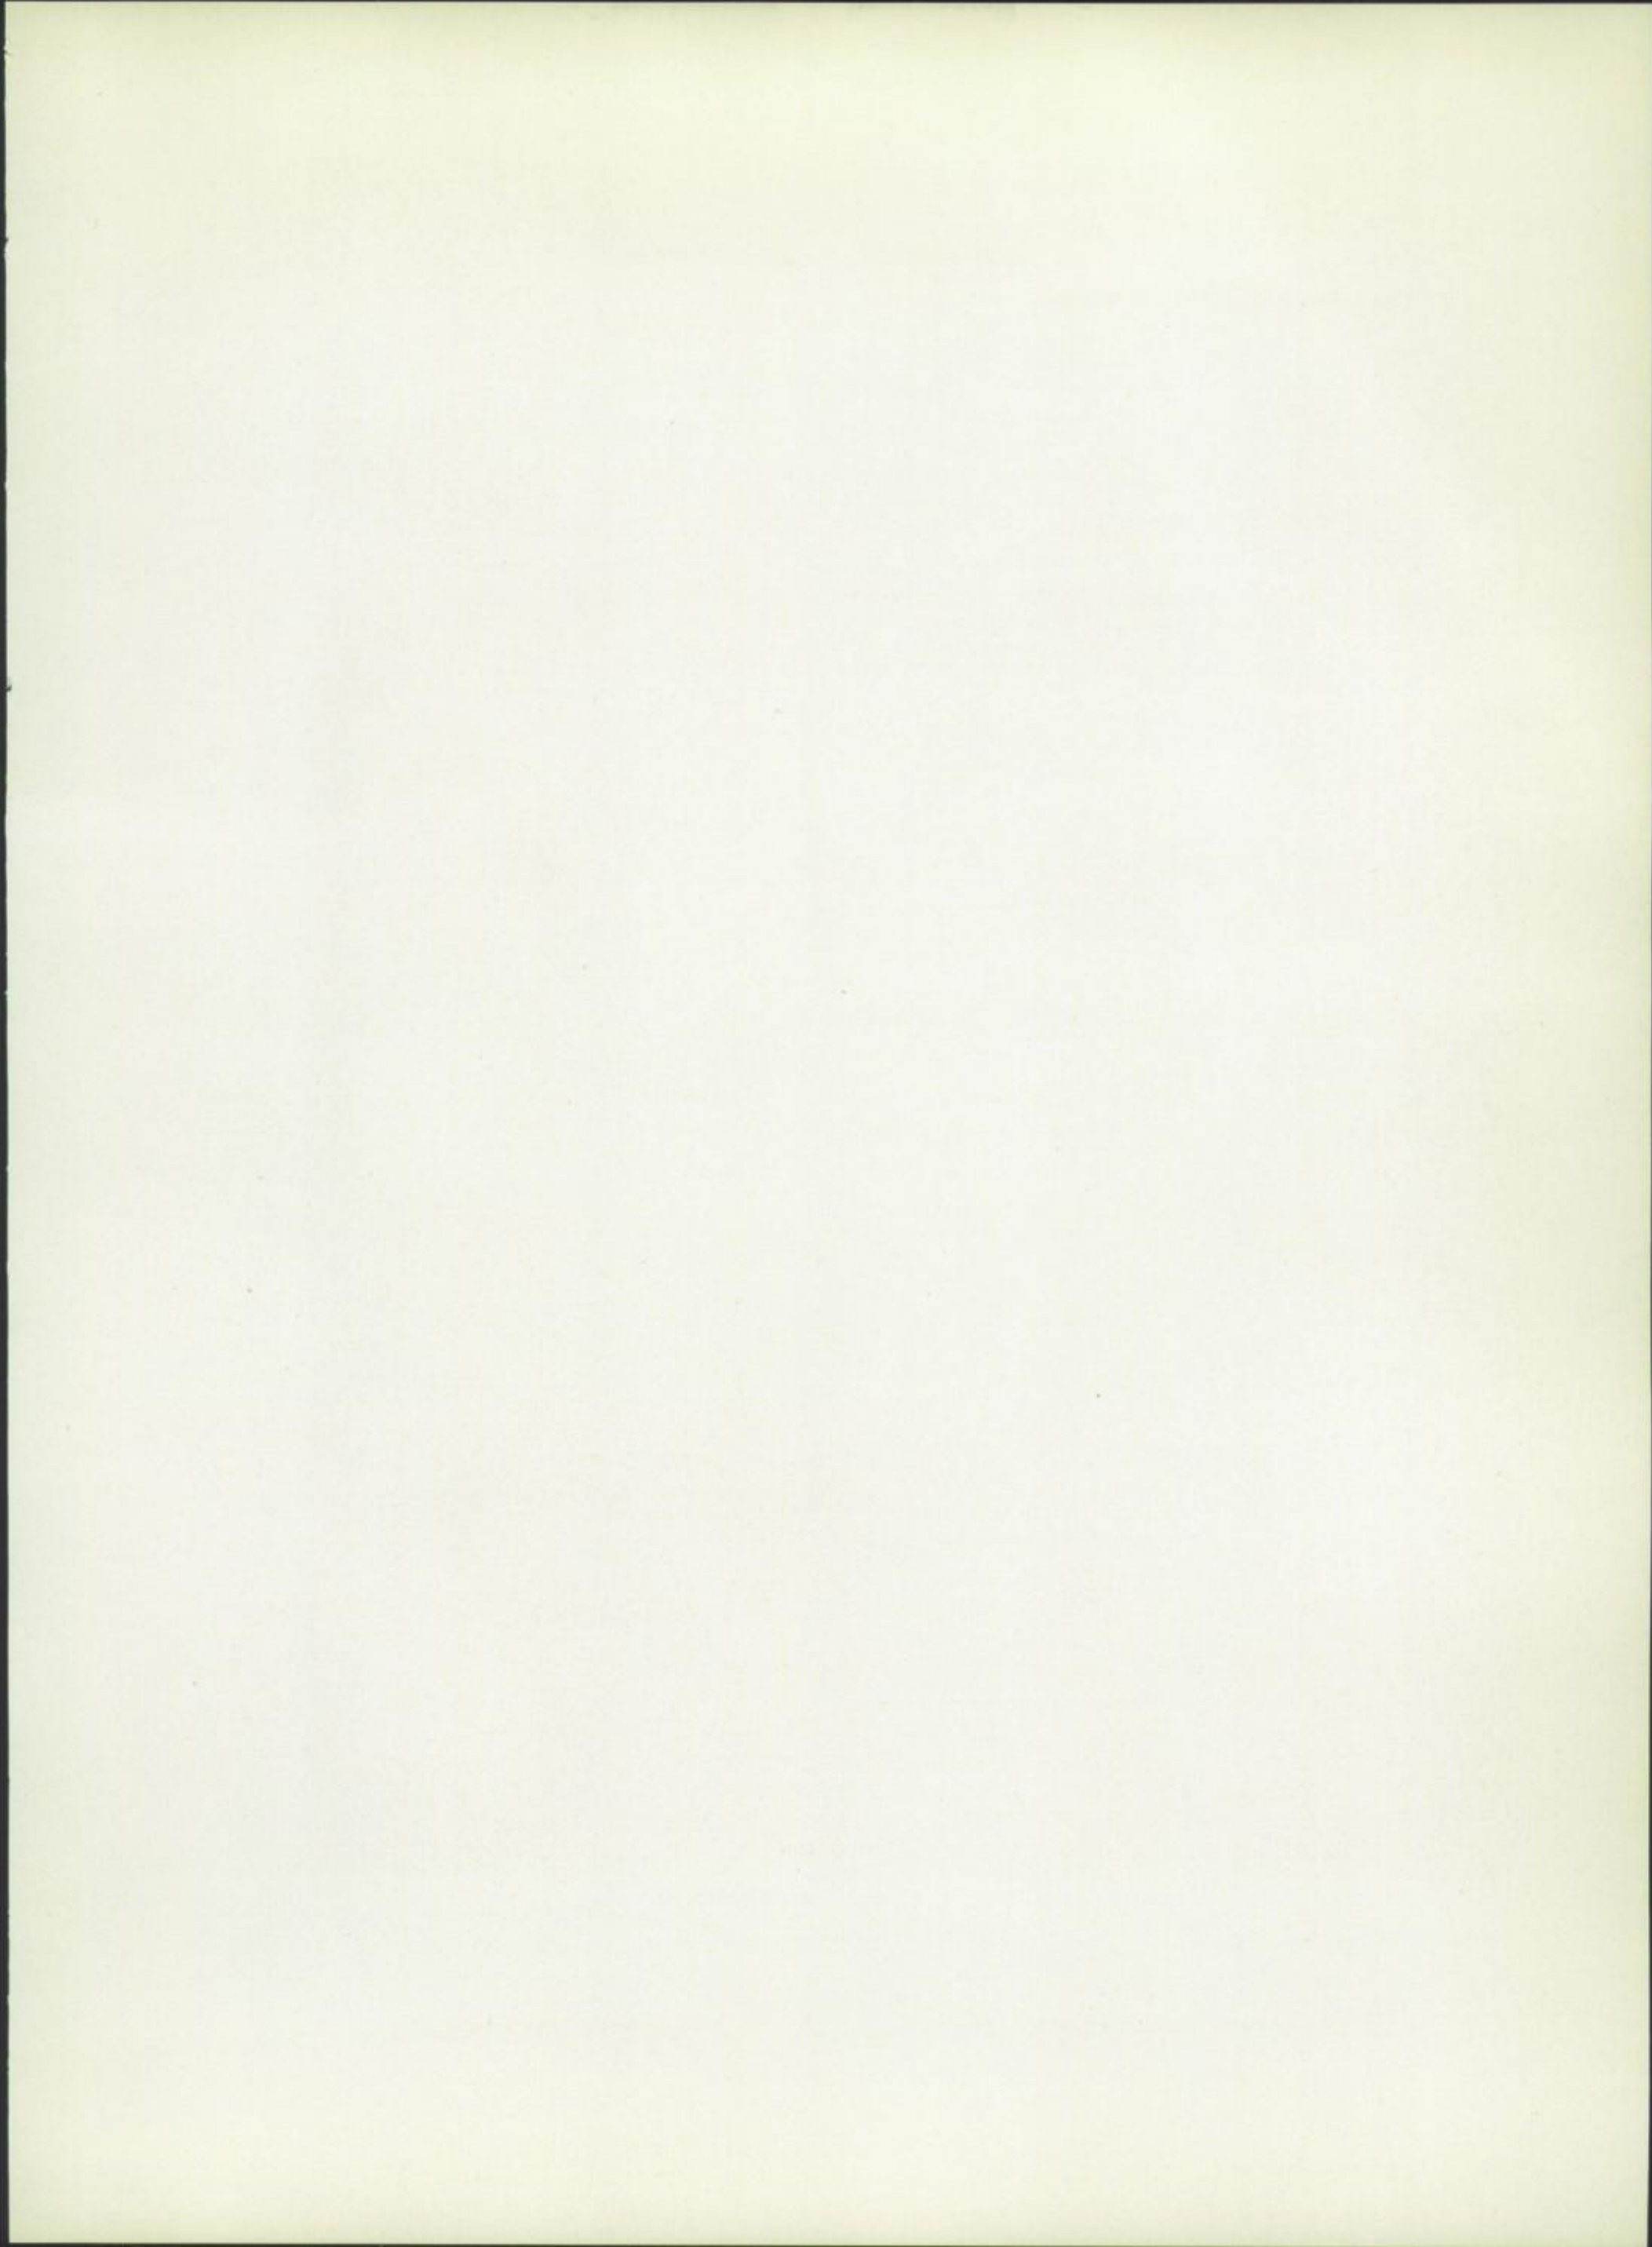

JAMES HOLLEY, Manager

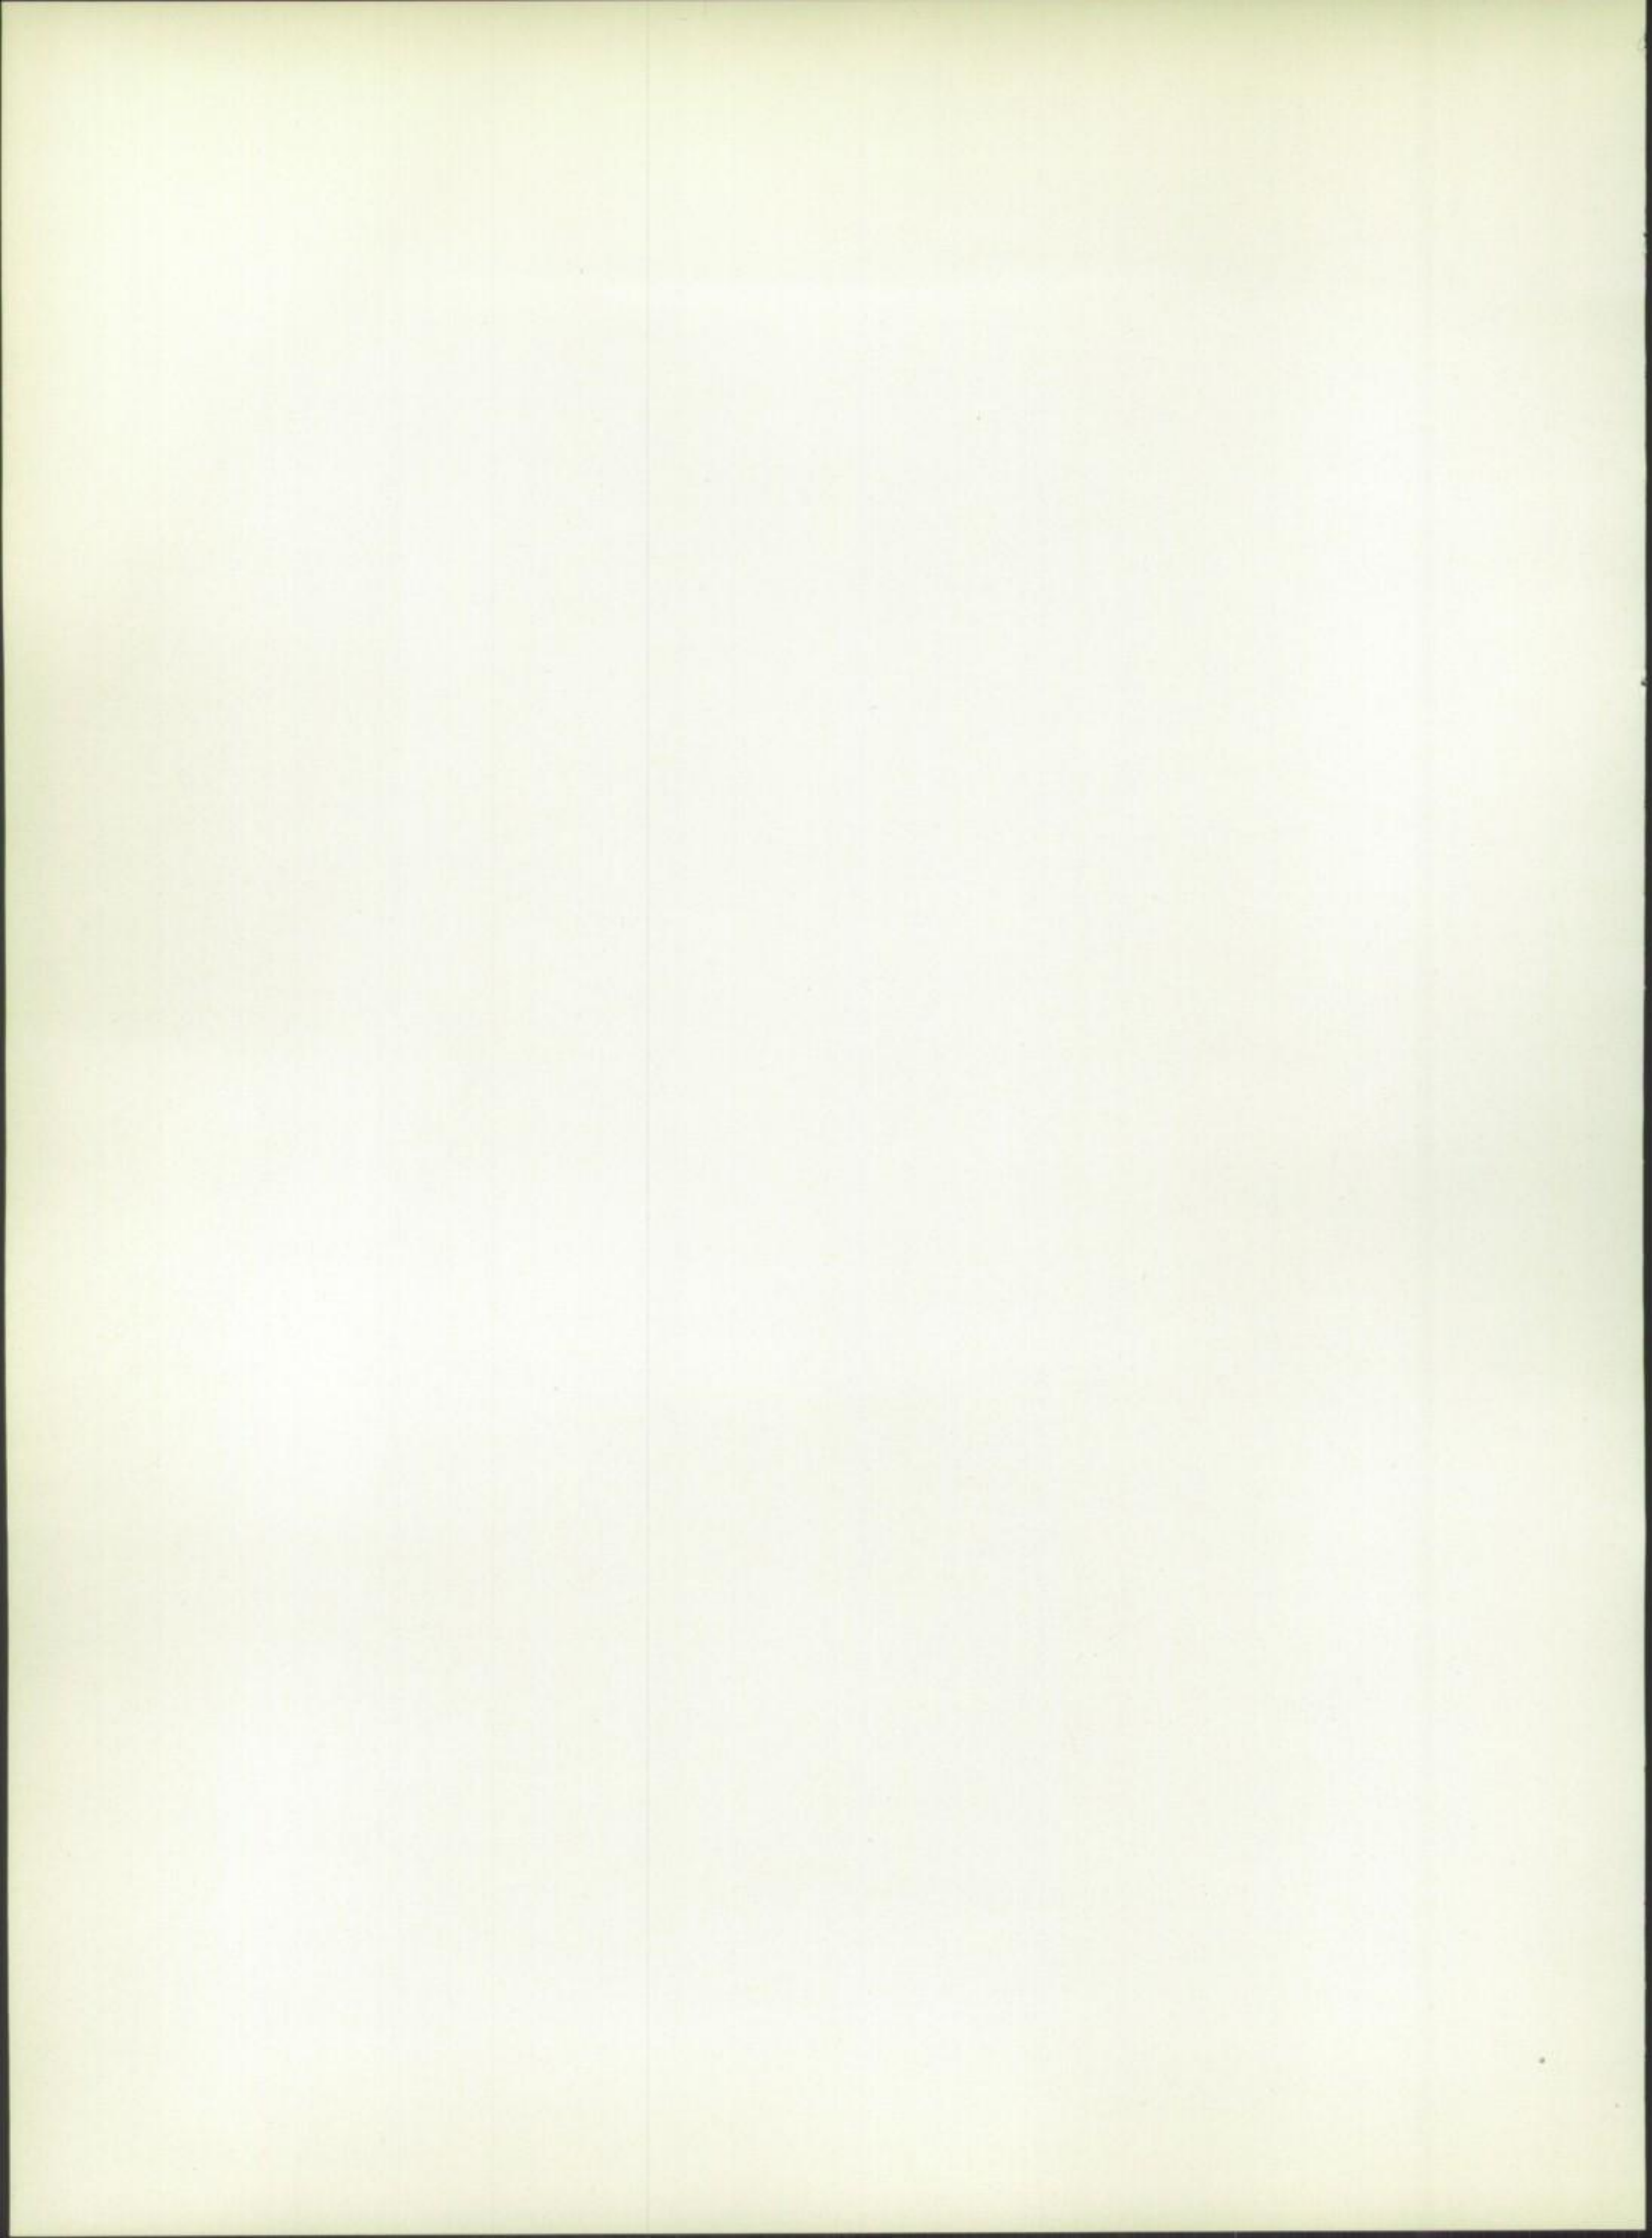

We sincerely hope that in these pages we have opened the doors of memories—memories which will bring you happiness—now and in the future.

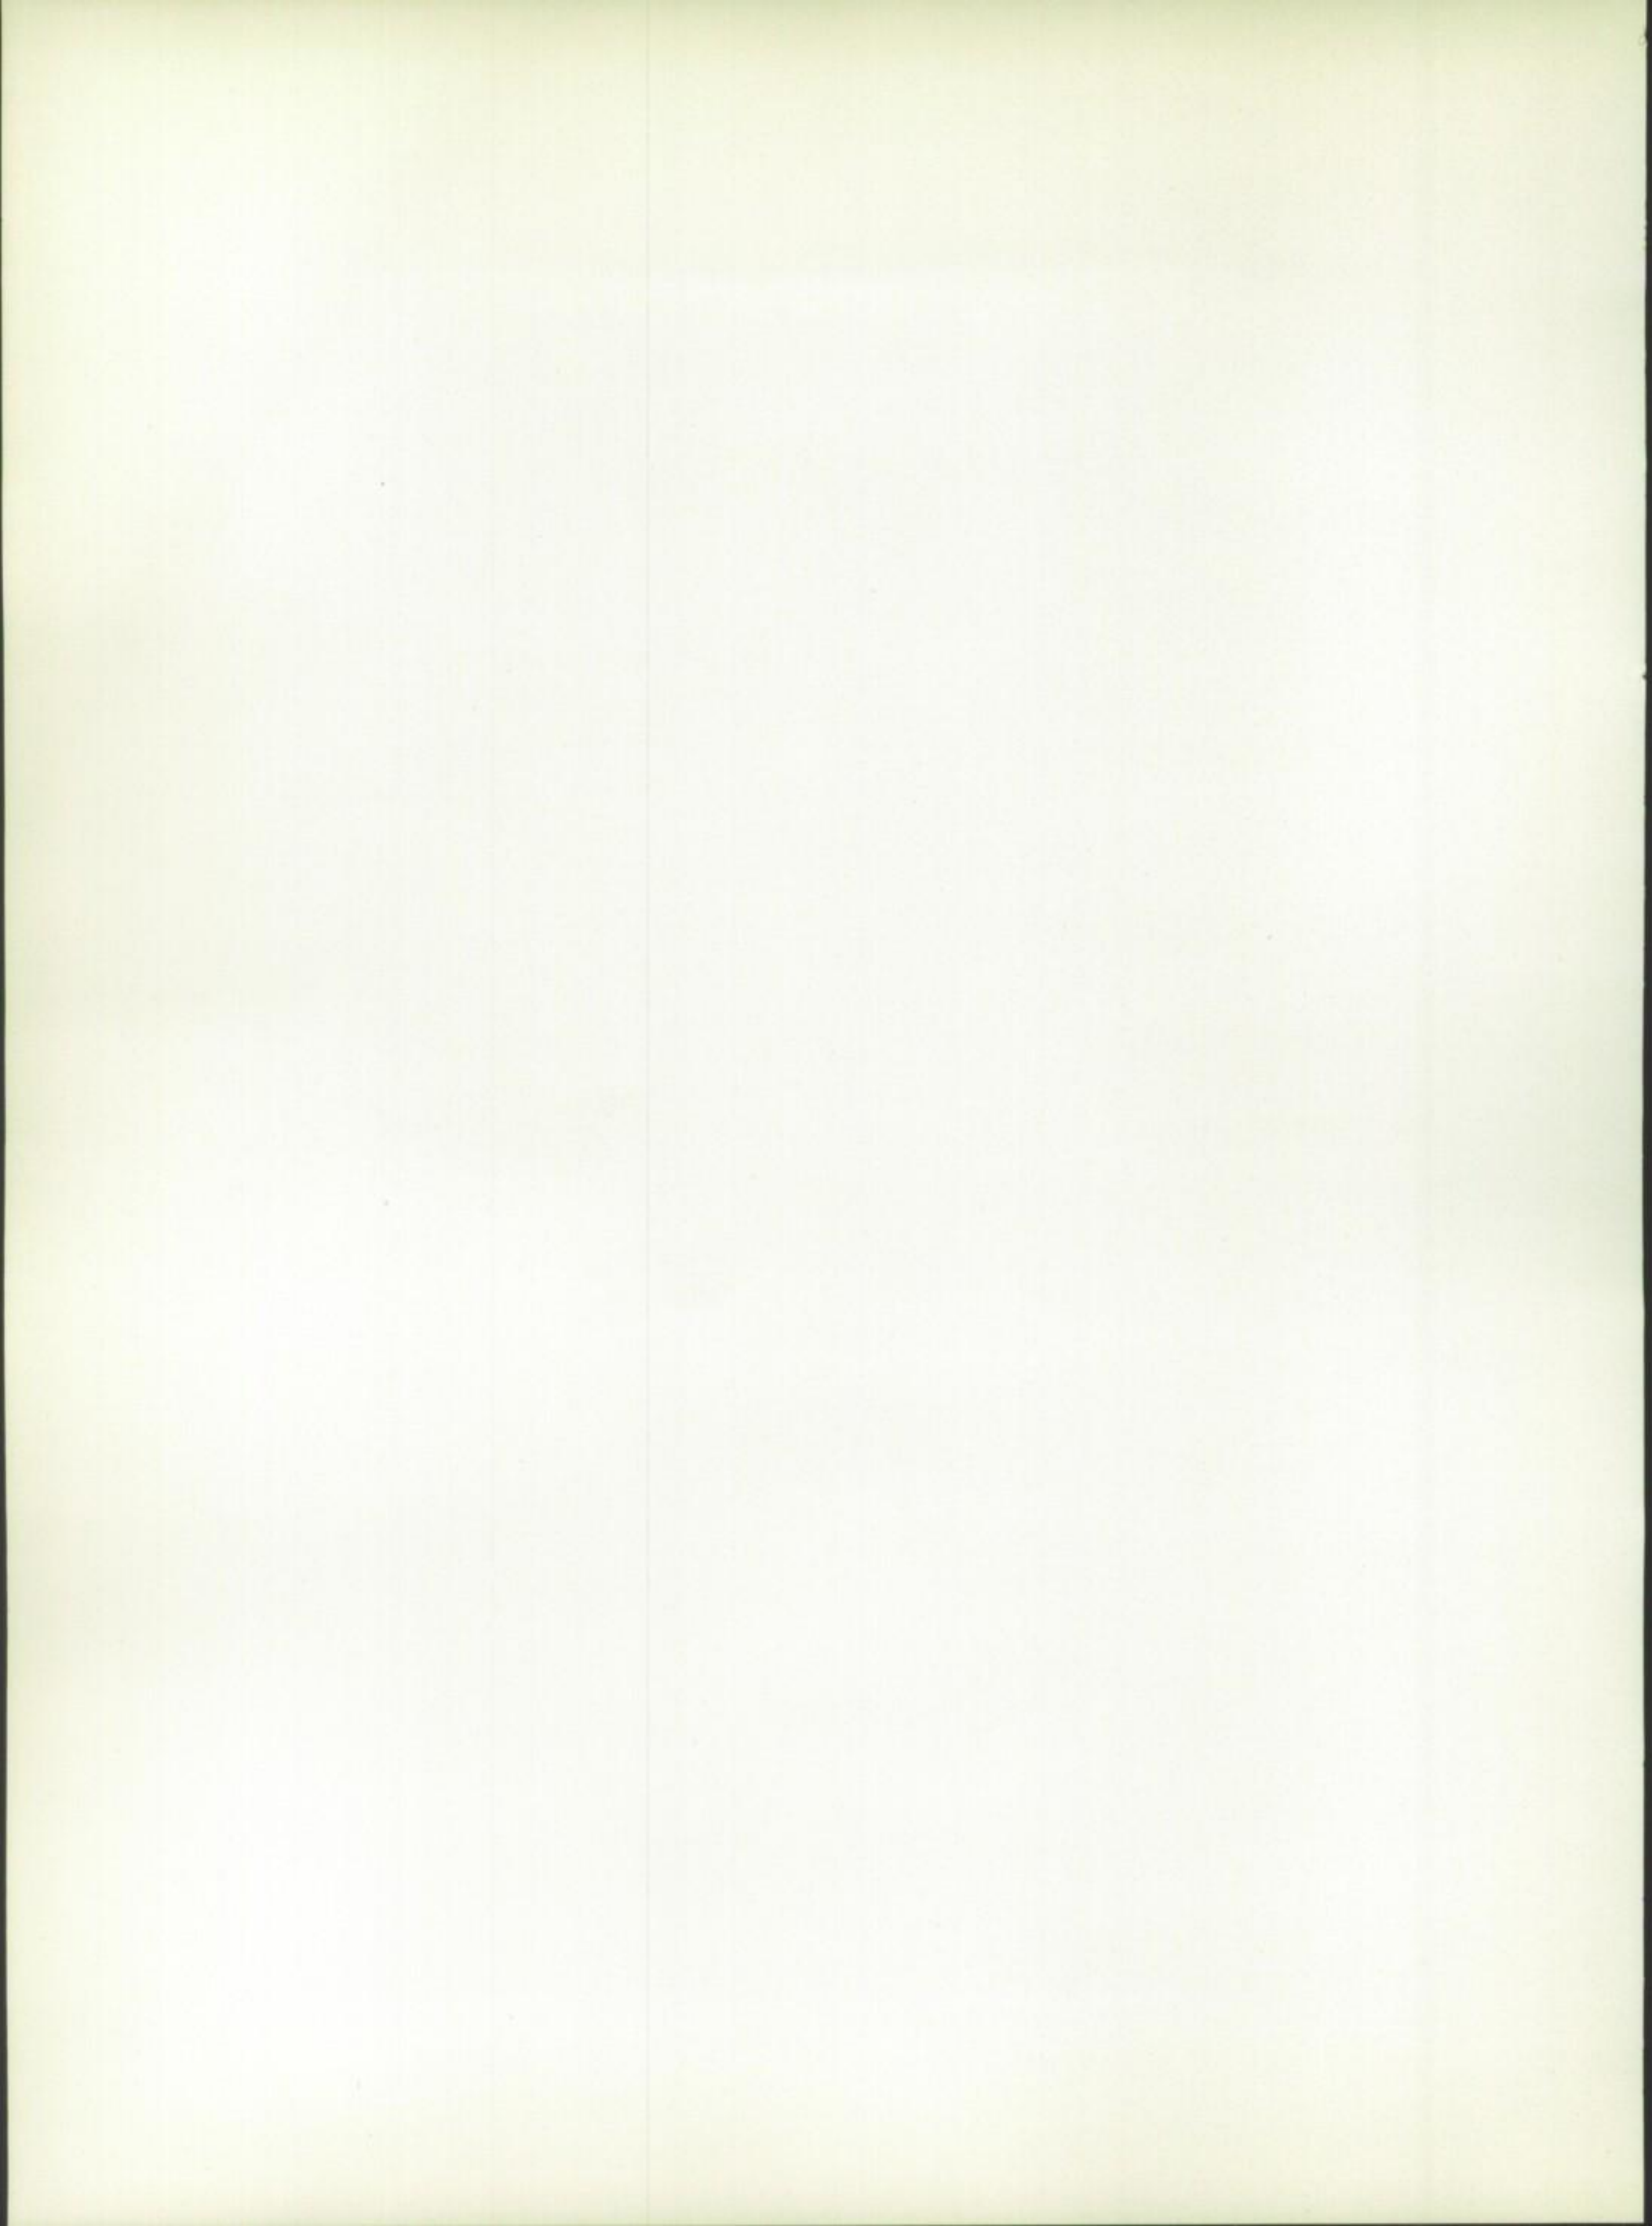

The entire Calumet Staff joins in expressing their gratitude to our advisor, Mr. Curtis Stermer—for without his never failing advice, the completion of this yearbook would not have been possible. Thanks, also, to all others who have assisted us in our task.
